WARNS AGAINST POISON WHISKY IN CIRCULATION

P. G. Miller Says Quantity of Liquor in Louisville and Vicinity Which Will Cause Death or Blindness If Drunk

BEING SOLD AS GENUINE BOTTLED IN BOND WHISKY

By Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, July 18.—P. Green Miller, prohibition chief of the district embracing Kentucky and Tennessee, today issued a warning that poisonous whiskey was being sold here which will cause deaths, blindness and paralysis. He said there had been at least two victims, one blinded, the other paralyzed. He asserted investigation showed the liquor was sold for bottled in bond whiskey and that it had been placed on the market, some in case lots. He said government analyses revealed danger in the liquor which cannot be told by the public from genuine. He declared the poisonous liquor was being made from distillation of a certain patent medicine of large alcoholic content and was being mixed with poisonous coloring matter. Government stamps stolen from the Atherton distillery and other plants are used on bottles and regular cases also were stolen and used to pack the bottles in boxes.

NO PLANS YET FOR SCHOOL DEFICIT

Revenue This Year $2500 Short—May Be Raised By Special Levy For Purpose

No plans have been made to raise funds to supplement the school revenue derived from city taxation, according to Dr. C. K. Brosheer, chairman of the educational board. The deficit this year is $2500, he stated, and with a standing deficit that has been accumulating for some time, the total amount needed will be $12,000.

The matter has not been taken up with the city but the board will do this later. Dr. Brosheer stated that he had no idea of how the money would be raised. He is opposed to further increasing the indebtedness for school purposes. Extra taxes have been levied in other towns for purposes of this nature, he said.

There being no special business to transact, the board did not hold its regular monthly meeting on the first Thursday of this month.

The regular routine expenses of the school are paid by the secretary and it is not necessary for the board to order the payment.

TYPHOID'S LOW DEATH RATE IN 1922 REMARKED

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Control of typhoid fever has made such progress that in 1922 the death rate for this disease was the lowest ever recorded, according to figures compiled by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Based on statistics from one-seventh of the total population of the United States and Canada, the death rate in the year mentioned was 5.6 per 100,000 of population. In 1911 the rate was 22.8 per 100,000.

These figures are particularly cheering to the American Child Health Association, which is engaged in fighting typhoid as well as other diseases which affect children and mothers.

SUDDEN DEATH OF I. B. DICKEY TODAY

Popular Young Middlesboro Man Dies in Hospital, Ill Only Day—Funeral Not Arranged

I. B. Dickey, prominent young business man of Middlesboro, died at the Brosheer-Brummett hospital following an application of anesthetics for an appendicitis operation early this afternoon. Hospital physicians say that he succumbed before the full application of anesthetics was administered, the exact cause of his death being unknown. For two hours they tried to revive him by artificial respiration, but without success.

Mr. Dickey was stricken with appendicitis at his office yesterday and went home at noon. This morning he was feeling better and came to his office. About noon he was admitted to the hospital where preparations were made for an operation.

An active member of the Christian Church and Kiwanis Club, Mr. Dickey was one of the most popular young men in town. He was a singer of exceptional ability and was ever ready to assist in a religious or civic musical program.

Mr. Dickey has lived in Middlesboro several years, coming here from Nashville. About three years ago he began work in the office of the F. P. Scales Motor company and continued there until he established his own garage on Twentieth street. In June, 1922 he was married to Miss Frances Atkinson who survives him. He is also survived by his parents who live at Nashville, Tenn. He was about 28 years old.

His death comes as a surprise and a shock to his hundreds of warm friends in Middlesboro and vicinity. He was regarded as one of the most promising young business men of the city. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

EASY TO DETECT BOGUS MONEY

CAPTAIN THOMAS I. PORTER

CHICAGO, July 18—Take a close look at the paper money in your roll.

Is there a suspicious thickness in the corners of the bill where the amount is printed?

Are the fine lines in the decorative scroll work blurred?

Does the bill seem a bit off color in its shading?

One-Act Show

Yes? Well, it's probably counterfeit or raised, and you ought to blame yourself for taking it.

Captain Thomas I. Porter, in charge of the U. S. Secret Service here who still is on the trail of the money makers in spite of his 77 years, will give you small consolation if you accept bad bills.

"Counterfeiters make their money to pass only once," he warns.

"They're satisfied as soon as the bill leaves their hands and they get value for it. So they don't have to make them permanent or fit for the closest inspection. Their game, you know, it to pass their money in rush hours on outlying storekeepers."

Only a Dub

Captain Porter doesn't give the counterfeiter credit for either technical skill or romance.

"He's a dub," the captain says. "He hasn't the nerve to go out in the open and rob. And anyone with skill to operate a camera can make bogus bills.

"There's no reason for his existence, no type or psychology to him. Anyone who doesn't want to work, who feels the lure of easy money, is a poteltial counterfeiter. Most fake money is easy to detect, even by the inexpert. Be vigilant and you want take it."

Then the veteran's mind lapsed back along the 38 years of his service.

"But it used to be that we ran across skilled workmen in the counterfeit game," he said. "They were harder to detect in the old days."

Captain Porter is on the job every day. That's the way he keeps young.

WILL HELP FIND CANNON HIDDEN ON MOUNTAIN DURING THE CIVIL WAR

Rumors that cannon and ammunition were hidden by the Confederates on this side of the mountain during the Civil war have long been current in this section. Search for the armaments have been made from time to time but without success. A communication was received this morning, however, which may lead to the discovery of the relics. The letter follows:

"To any one whom it may concern—I hear they have tried to find cannons that were lost in time of the Civil War. I saw these guns in 1866 and if there's any one that wants to know their whereabouts please let me know as I know just where they are.—Mrs. H. W. Chandler, London, Ky."

It is said that a locust post was put under the ground as a marker for the hidden cannot but if such is the case no trace of it has been found. There was one brass cannon of great value, it is said.

The collection of ancient guns, while its intrinsic value would be comparatively insignificant, would make an interesting and valuable display. If any one is interested in locating the cache, he would do well to communicate with Mrs. Chandler who offers to reveal the hiding place.

CHURCH WORKERS TO MEET AT CAMP DANIEL BOONE

By Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 18.—The annual Christian Workers Conference, embracing the Adult Bible Class and Church Efficiency Conference and the State camp of Kentucky Christian Endeavor Society, will be held at Camp Daniel Boone on the Kentucky river August 15 to 22, under the auspices of the State Young Men's Christian Association.

Camp Daniel Boone is located on the Kentucky river just about seven miles from Nicholasville in one of the most wild and beautiful regions in the country. A high trestle overlooks the camp at the rear. The camp equipment is in fine order, twelve of the original tents having been replaced with the "tent huts," which have permanent floors and roofs and detachable canvas side walls and are the latest and most popular form of housing for campers. The wayside Inn makes it impossible to accommodate a limited number of campers who do not care for tent accommodations.

SIDE STREETS BEING IMPROVED

Material From Cumberland Being Dumped on Exeter, Chester and Cross Streets

Rock from Cumberland avenue is being taken to Exeter avenue today and dumped in the low places west of Twenty-third street. The section of Chester avenue between Nineteenth and Twentieth streets has been filled by the old material, making it a passable street.

The material is dumped by the two trucks which are used in its removal. It will be spread into the porper thickness by property owners who are very glad to make a good street before their property at so small an expense.

Cross streets in the vicinity of Exeter and Chester avenues have also been improved by the old rock. Many requests for the old material have been made. The matter of its disposal is left entirely to J. C. Richardson, city engineer, and those desiring it should communicate with him.

Materials for the molds for the en foot gutters have been placed along Cumberland avenue between Twenty-first and Twenty-second street. Work of grading between Nineteenth and Twentieth streets continued today.

KNOXVILLE READY FOR CONVENTION

Kiwanian Eyes Turned Toward Middlesboro For Annual District Meeting

KNOXVILLE, July 18.—A large delegation of Knoxville Kiwanians will attend the district convention in Middlesboro, Ky., September 27-28, according to C. L. Eddleman, secretary.

Ed F. Arras, international president, and Roe Fulkerson, editor of Kiwanis magazine, are among the expected guests of the convention and are scheduled to make addresses.

A silver loving cup is offered to the club sending the largest number of delegates for the number of miles traveled, and Knoxville has an unusual chance of winning the trophy. The cup is offered by George Selig, field representative of the international organization, who provides that the club winning the cup retain it for one year only, but that if a club wins the trophy three times in succession the cup becomes that club's permanent property. Pineville, Ky., Kiwanis has had the cup for the past two years, according to Mr. Eddleman, and are working hard for it this year.

The district governor offers a similar cup to the club secretary giving the most publicity to his organization, and Mr. Eddleman says that his scrapbook clippings is so full that he feels sure of winning the district offering.

"Announcement extraordinary" of the Middlesboro club says that music and fun for the district meet will be under the direction of Jules Brazil, "the world's most famous song leader". This is expected to be a drawing card for Kiwanians throughout the district, which includes Kentucky and Tennessee.

All reports have it that the Middlesboro group are working hard on the program, and the Kiwanis bulletin states that it is to be "some convention." In addition to the president and magazine editor, the program of speakers includes a number of other distinguished officials, among them one of the international trustees and several members of the official international staff.

AMERICA HEADS LIST MULTI-MILLIONAIRES

Henry Ford Leads With Rockefeller Second Richest Man in the World

By Associated Press

LONDON, July 18.—Who are the ten richest men in the world? asks the Sunday Express. It answers the query itself by giving a list at the head of which is Henry Ford, whose fortune is estimated at $500,000,000. John D. Rockefeller comes next with $450,000,000; Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, is third with $150,000,000, and then follow the Duke of Westminister, Sir Brasil Zaharoff, Hugo Stinnes, Percy Rockefeller, Baron H. Mitsui, Baron H. Iwassaki and the Gaekwar of Baroda, each with $100,000,000.

James B. Duke, the tobacco king; George F. Baker, of the First National Bank of New York, and T. B. Walker, the Minneapolis timber landowner, the Express says, might be added to the list, since they all have fortunes estimated at $100,000,000, while there are at least three other Indian rulers whose fortunes probably exceed this amount.

The Rothschilds, Guggenheims, Vanderbilts, Weyerhousers, and the Astors, says the writer, do not appear because theirs are family fortunes. The Rothschild wealth has been estimated at from $250,000,000 to $500,000,000 and that of the Astors at from $109,000,000 to $500,000,000.

Henry Ford is possibly the richest man in all history, the paper declares. He has a net business income of more than $10,000,000 a year. He earns $250 every minute. Croesus may have been richer, since his famous gift to Delphi cost $10,000,000, and that, reduced to today's terms, might mean $200,000,000.

John D. Rockefeller gave away $500,000,000 to charity and to foundations before 1921. He is the head, however, of the biggest group of wealthy men ever produced by a single industry, and his private fortune must still rank his second.

Sir Basil Zaharoff is Europe's mystery man, but it is no mystery that he is one of Europe's wealthiest men. He owns more than half of Monte Carlo, and his holdings in armament firms are ever larger. He is in oil, finance, shipping; in fact, it is difficult to say what he is not interested in.

The Mitsuis and the Iwasakis are financiers, traders, and shippers. The Gaekwar of Baroda's wealth is almost impossible to estimate, but his diamonds alone are valued at $1,250,000, and he has a jewelled tapestry worth $1,500,000. Guns of gold weighing 400 pounds stand at his palace gate.

CARELESS DRIVING BY CHILDREN

Opposition to the careless operation of cars by children under sixteen is voiced by the American Automobile Association. The members hold that in cases where children are driving motor vehicles without an operator's license the parents themselves are guilty of any misdemeanor.

While a child under 16 may be letter perfect in the mechanical operation of a motor vehicle, it stands to reason that his judgment is not matured sufficiently to enable him to think coolly and correctly in adverse conditions.

It requires four years of hard work for a man to get a license to run a railroad locomotive, which runs on a steel track and can not turn to one side or the other, and the engineer must be 21 years old at least before he starts to learn. Certainly it is argued a child should be required to reach the age of 16 or even older before he is permitted to run a car which has no restrictions save those of a steering wheel, which have been known to be defective.

Children operating motor vehicles on the public highway are a menace not only to pedestrians but to other motorists.—Knoxville Sentinel.

If the practice of children under age driving cars on the streets of Middlesboro is not stopped by parents, then every person seeing a child driving a car should report the license number to the police immediately.

YES, WE HAVE NO SUMMER!

A few months ago, before coats were discarded and fans and other cooling devices took on an unusual attractiveness, a rumor became current over the country that this would be a cold summer. The report started from some weather bureau and spread throughout the country. The uncanniness of the expected coolness of Sol's rays lent itself readily to the public mind and awe not unmixed with fear prevailed in the hearts of many.

The first few weeks of summer bade fair to prove the truth of the prophecy. Summer clothing was a drug on the market and vendors of ice cream began to experience a vague uneasiness. Men who could defy any earthly competition were entirely unfitted to cope with the supernatural.

But the advent of summer months was followed by warm weather which increased in intensity until now "sizzling" is the only word which will describe it. Old Sol, that thing source of light and heat for millions of years, is vindicated and we vaguely wish now that there had been something in the rumor.

Dependent as we are for existence on the laws of the universe over which we have no control, mankind is prone to give credence to rumors of this nature. Is it not merely superstition, man's hereditary bequest from primitive life, that causes us to worry over these things?

But speaking of weather, we are reminded of a doggerel:

Man is more or less a fool,
When it's hot he wants it cool,
When it's cool he wants it hot,
Always wanting what is not.

The new bond issue voted by the Bell county fiscal court will add new links in the good roads [illegible] of this section. Middlesboro, located in the center of a section rich in natural resources, should logically become a large city as Knoxville or even Louisville or Atlanta. Great cities are ever built by a population that is sufficiently enterprising to draw people from other places. This is a day of competition between towns and cities, particularly of the south, and the winners will be those which can offer the best inducements to outsiders.

They Do Not Live

By Irwin Edman

They do not live who choose the middle way
Whom ecstasy and anguish have not known
Who scale no trembling heights or plumb the lone
Depths of an aching darkness in bright day

They miss the passion with the pain the gay
High tides that sweep the spirit to its own
The lifting surge of music the dear tone
Of a loved voice in pleasure or in play

They miss the hurts and stumbling [illegible] fear
Is never theirs or groping in the night
In their serene cool weather come no dread
Torrents or tempests to corrupt their sight
Or any rainbow neither do they hear
The sea nor does the thunder wake these dead

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

Mint As Garnish or Flavor

Use mint in warm weather while it is in season As a garnish or flavor its uses are legion

For breakfast a tiny sprig of tender mint in a chilled grapefruit a glass of orange juice or the half of a cantaloupe adds much to the taste and looks

Sprigs of mint in iced tea or lemonade make a change that is delightful and refreshing

As to the food value mint stimulates the appetite and aids digestion

Nearly every old garden has its bed of mint and the markets always handle it Wash carefully and always strip leaves from the stalk when using as a food

Mint Sauce

Three tablespoons minced mint one-eighth teaspoon salt 2 tablespoons of sugar 5 tablespoons vinegar 2 tablespoons water

Wash carefully and strip leaves from stalks Shake dry in a towel Mince Put in a heatproof bowl and add sugar salt vinegar and water Cover and let stand in a warm place for an hour This sauce is delicious with roast lamb

Some cooks prefer to serve mint jelly rather than sauce

Some cooks prefer to serve mint jelly rather than sauce

Mint Jelly

Six tablespoons minced mint one-half teaspoon salt [illegible] tablespoons sugar 8 tablespoons vinegar 1 tablespoon of granulated gelatin 3 tablespoons cold water 1 1/2 cups boiling water

Prepare mint as in preceding recipe Put in a smooth enamelware pan and add salt sugar and vinegar Heat slowly and let simmer tightly covered just below the boiling point for an hour Strain through cheesecloth over gelatin Stir until gelatin is dissolved and set aside to cool When cool put on ice to set Remove from mold and garnish with fresh mint tips and serve

Mint Julep

Two cups water 1 cup sugar 1 cup boiling water 30 stalks mint 1/2 cup strawberry juice 1/2 cup raspberry juice 4 lemons

Boil sugar and water fifteen minutes Wash mint and strip from stem Cut mint fine with the kitchen scissors Put in a bowl and pour over boiling water Cover tightly and let stand fifteen minutes Strain into syrup Squeeze juice into first mixture Add strawberry and raspberry juices and chill Serve in glasses with crushed ice and sprigs of mint All orange juice may be used in place of the combination of fruits A maraschino cherry in each glass adds much

YOU CAN "OVER GOLF," SO WATCH YOUR STEP

While golf is not a game of violent physical exertion there is a steady drain upon the stamina which ought to be recognized by players young and old especially those getting fairly well along in years

We know from reports of the senior golfers annual tournament at Apawamis that golf has done wonders physically for a large body of men Many of those who take part in this annual affair readily admit that golf has done a large part in keeping them physically fit and healthy And some of these men are 80 or more

But some at times forget there is such a thing as overdoing it just as recently did an old friend of mine a dentist now in his 60th year He undertook to play [illegible] holes of golf one day and after that to do a lot of work about his garden and the consequence was that he was almost played out In fact he suffered more of a reverse from this over strenuosity than in anything he had done for many years

The younger men hardly know when they are tired or some of them don't The idea of playing 54 holes or more in a day as some of them do with surprising frequency as much for the sake of boasting about it as anything else will do them no good and may do some harm besides taking the edge off their appetite for the game

A man can over golf just as he can overeat and he might just as well realize moreover that what is food for one in the matter of exercise may be poison for another just as in eating

Washington Letter

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Loyalty to one's car comes second only to loyalty to one's family in the creed of most auto owners. In the usual exception places are simply reversed, the car coming first.

No matter how decrepit, how balky, cantankerous or spittery the old bus may be, 999 owners out of 1,000 will tell how good an old boat she is, anyway, extolling all her virtues and good points, recounting her long and valiant service and condoning any present faults.

But there is in Washington one traitor to the brotherhood. He not only knocks his own car, but does it publicly, flagrantly and in a way to attract maximum attention.

It's a good looking car, almost new. But across its sides and back he has painted in blazing yellow letters a foot high:

"Stung! No Good!"

"This car is a——It's a lemon."

On the doors on each side he has painted a huge lemon the size of a wooden bucket, with the explanation phrase, "This Car's a Lemon."

Doubtless the owner has had a clash with the agency from which the car was bought. But apparently the bus runs all right for one sees it all over town. For a lemon it certainly does travel!

"Keeping an eye on Congress" has become more than a mere byword expressing an interest in governmental affairs.

Slowly but surely Congress is being literally hemmed in by a circle of watchful eyes forming an actual physical barricade about the capitol building. Just how hypnotic, how effective these eyes may be in shaping the actions of Congress no one yet knows. Yet there is steadily accumulating evidence that they do exert an influence on congressional acts. And any member of House or Senate will privately admit that they get on one's nerves.

First among the forces ringing in the capitol is the Anti-Saloon League. Its offices face the north side of the capitol grounds, fronting directly on the Senate wing.

[illegible] the east, watching over both House and Senate, are the new headquarters of the National Woman's Party. There a busy bunch of watchers is ever on the alert.

Farther south and flanking the Woman's Party forces are the watchers of the National Reform Bureau, while completing the cordon stands the headquarters of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

These are the organizations that deal with Congress collectively. They hold Congress in a circle of perpetual watchfulness.

The lobbies of big business and private interests with axes to grind, dealing with members individually rather than collectively, maintain their offices uptown. They don't like perpetual watching any better than Congress does!

General Henri Joseph Eugene Gouraud, the one armed French hero of the Champagne offensive, who has just paid us a visit, paid a call on former President Wilson before leaving Washington.

Wilson, it seemed, desiring to welcome the French general appropriately, had descended to the reception hall to greet him and Ambassador and Mme. Jusserand when they called.

NEW TERMINAL IN CINCINNATI PLANNED

Want Adequate Union Railroad Station, Freight Depot and River Front Accommodations

By Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, July 17.—The Cincinnati Railroad Terminal Development company recently organized by a group of Cincinnati's most representative and influential men, has for its object the promotion of plans for an adequate new union railroad station, freight terminals and other physical properties on the river front which will take care of the growing traffic of the city for the next 25 to 50 years.

While no estimate of the cost of the entire improvement will be made until a definite plan has been agreed on, it was estimated that the total cost would not exceed $50,000,000.

Immediately following the announcement of the organization of the company it was stated that no time would be lost in starting efforts to obtain the cooperation of the railroads entering Cincinnati. Officers of the seven railroads entering the city were to be asked to select local representatives to confer with the officers of the development company on the project. Robert A. Taft, secretary of the terminal company, said no terminal plan of any kind has been or will be decided on by the terminal company until the railroad officials agree on a plan. He declared that the railroads have been at work on a plan for some time and that it was likely that whatever has been agreed on by them will be used as the neucleus of the new plan.

Both Secretary Taft and President George Dent Crabbs, expressed themselves as confident there would be no difficulty in financing the project, once the railroads have agreed to cooperate. It is expected that two additional bridges will be built across the Ohio river here as part of the terminal projects. The first consideration, it was said, would be to provide adequate freight terminals and belt line service between all railroads serving Greater Cincinnati from both sides of the Ohio and Licking rivers

"The development of the Cincinnati terminals will mean that terminal development will have to be made by Dayton and Toledo to take care of increased traffic movement so that freight to lake ports will not be congested for lack of proper terminal room at these more northern cities," Mr. Crabbs said.

PREVENTION OF "SUMMER COMPLAINT" AMONG BABIES

By Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, July 17.—A few years ago hundreds of babies died each summer from so-called "summer complaint" while now it is known that practically all of this illness can be prevented by the proper feeding of babies, cleanliness in caring for the foods, screening the home against flies, providing pure drinking water, disposing of garbage and sewage and the quarantining of children who have an infectious diarrhoea, according to Dr. Annie S. Veech of the State Board of Health.

"Feed the baby at regular intervals by the clock and do not give him food, soda water, candy and trash between meals," warns Dr. Veech. "Give him his daily bath. Place his bed in a cool place in the open air for his morning nap, and cover him with a mosquito netting if the house is not screened. Immediately after his mid-day meal have him take another nap and make seven o'clock his regular bed time. One dress and his napkin is sufficient for hot days. If the mornings and evenings are cool put extra clothing on him, but remove it during the heat of the day."

"Give the baby plenty of fresh water to drink. During the summer months it is better to boil all the water drunk by the baby and keep it in a cool place.

"Avoid overfatigue, overexcitement, and overstimulation of the baby caused by playing with him. Keep him happy and quiet and follow these rules and there will be no 'summer sickness.'"

LOUISVILLE GAS SUPPLY DEPENDS ON PIPELINES

By Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 14.—A supply of natural gas sufficient for years to come for Louisville could be obtained if adequate pipelines were laid to the gas fields of Eastern Kentucky and West Virginia, according to a report filed with Mayor Huston Quin by a committee representing Eastern Kentucky capitalists. The purpose of a visit paid by the committee to Mayor Quin was to acquaint him with the gas situation, it was said.

Under the present franchise held by the Louisville Gas and Electric Company it is impossible to obtain more than 19,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily. Mayor Quin is said to have informed the members of the committee, as that is the full capacity of the company's lines; that the company, is required to furnish a minimum of 12,000,000 feet daily, if that amount is demanded. He said further, however, that the company had been furnishing as much as 19,000,000 feet of gas daily when that amount was required for several years.

Due to the limit by the franchise, Mayor Quin pointed out, it is impossible at this time to force the company to supply an additional amount of natural gas.

AUSTRIAN ROYAL PLATE TO BE PLACED ON SALE

By Associated Press.

VIENNA, July 16.—What is probably the rarest and most valuable collection of silver plate in Europe, the famous silver treasure of the Cumberland family, is reported to be coming into the market. It was kept in the Cumberland royal villa at Pazig, just outside Vienna, until the death of the old King of Hanover in 1878. Afterwards it was removed to the Cumberland country seat at Gmunden in Salkammergut.

The collection includes priceless specimens of the work of the first silversmiths in England, France, Augsburg, Hanover and Osnabruck, during the three centuries between 1560 and 1850. The only other collection which approaches it in extent and completeness is that in Windsor castle.

The total weight of the Gmunden treasure is about 130,000 ounces and its value in Austrian crowns must amount to several hundred milliards, but it is understood that the purchaser, or purchasers, will have to pay in some foreign money of nominal exchange, and not in depreciated Austrian crowns.

HUGE CIGAR PRODUCTION

By Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, July 16.—According to report of C. M. Dean, Internal Revenue Collector, 202,176,883 cigars were produced in the Cincinnati revenue district during the fiscal year ended last June 30. Last year the production was 184,011,028.

WAS A GOOD JUDGE OF LIQUOR

"Since a young man I had a liking for liquor and was considered a pretty good judge of it at one time, but constant drinking gave me stomach trouble which became chronic. My stomach would have been a valuable addition to a gas factory. Doctors did not seem to relieve me. One day my druggist got me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and I am now as good as new." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At Lee's and druggists everywhere.

"Purring" Motors Come From Pouring
STANOCOLA
Polarine
In Your Crank Case

Automobile construction has reached such a high point of efficiency that nearly any car you buy will give you good service if you take the right care of it.

Proper lubrication is, of course, the most essential thing to motor satisfaction—and remember always that the motor is the heart of the car. If the pistons and cylinder walls are lubricated with the right quality and the right weight of oil, you will have no bother or expense with either of the two great causes of trouble—friction and lost power.

Polarine is a motor oil made from the very heart of choicest crude petroleum, refined, filtered and purified so as to produce just the right "oiliness" for every motor. Made in four weights, "Medium"—"Heavy"—"Heavy X" and "Heavy XX." By following the chart of recommendations (which is on display at all Polarine dealers), you can be absolutely assured of getting the proper weight for your motor.
